Morocco to France, the Efforts of Item. Years Will Be Fruitless, Is View of the German Foreign Office.

Berlin, Feb. 14. Some exchanges of suggestions between this and other governments regarding the Algerias. negotiations are proceeding, although Both France and Germany have taktions. France for a general mandate a combined administration by all the German foreign office is that if France intended to insist on a paramount position in Morocco, why did she take should now agree to give over Morocco to France, the efforts of years will be fruitless, and a long period of unrest in European affairs, it is believed, would begin, the issue of which no one ventures to predict.

It is likened in calcial quarters, however, to the period of 1866 to 1870, when the economic life of the principal configent constries were disturbed constantly by fears and rumors of war.

The dissolution of the Algeeiras conference, while not in itself the cause of war talk, will certainly be succeeded by a revival of mutual distrust between France and Germany. Susptcton was aroused here by the news from Lalla Marnia province of Oran. Algeria, that the Moorish pretender Bu Hamara, is assembling the independent tribes for a foray against towns near the Algerian frontier. As the preward policy in Morocco.
